What's common in the recruitment process of Deloitte and KPMG's recruitment process? Well, both of these companies hold case study competitions to check the abilities of the applicants. Clearly being able to present case studies is an important skill for an engineer, so SPIT E-Cell and IR cell came up with the Case Study competition. The competition was held on 22nd February, 2020. No surprises, the competition received an overwhelming response from students of the first, second and third year.

All of the top 13 teams got a chance to present their solutions on 22nd February. Every team had 10 minutes to present their solutions, followed by the question-answer round. The panel of judges consisted of Prof. Kaisar Katchi (Faculty Mentor, E-Cell S.P.I.T.), Mr Asif Panjwani (Risk Consultant at KPMG), Ms Kejal Parekh (Senior Marketing Manager Nyka) and Jatin Malhotra (Project Manager JIO). " To witness such a huge participation ranging from FEs to TEs was overwhelming! It was a pleasure to organize an event where everyone learnt so much while having fun " Jay, Head of Finance, E- Cell
